Bond On The Way Back To Bowling

13/12/2004 08:36 AM NewstalkZB

Some positive news for New Zealand cricket with Shane Bond showing some impressive form over the weekend in Christchurch club cricket.

However, it was with the bat rather than the ball as he belted 102 runs off just 87 balls playing for Old Boys-Collegians.

On the bowling front, he says his progress is promising while his medical advisors ensure his bowling action is as safe as possible.

He says he is about 90 to 95 percent there.

Bond says he has been training really hard and managed to get through seven overs practicing in the nets recently, which is a promising sign.

Bond hopes to be back bowling in club cricket in the next few weeks and hopes to make a comeback at representative level by the end of the season.
